NATIONAL MANUFACTURERS IN SESSION IN PITTSBURGH

President Barry Makes Many Sensational Statements in His Annual Address.

Pittsburgh, May 17.—The national convention of the National Manufacturers' Association convened here at 9 o'clock this morning. A full quota of delegates are present and the convention is very enthusiastic.

In his annual address, President Parry briefly discussed the labor problem, which he declared was at present the paramount question before the association. In reviewing the labor events of the past year, he said:

"There are many indications which go to show that organized labor is learning a very valuable lesson in economics and law observance and hopes can be reasonably entertained that the strikes which have characterized the last year will be less strenuous in the future."

"In regard to the National Association of Manufacturers, I am positive that any crusade having for its object the grinding down of labor would meet the determined opposition of practically the entire membership. The policy of this association is primarily one of peace. If we stand for anything we stand for the development of American industry. It is obvious that men will hesitate to invest their capital in productive enterprises if it means constant struggle with labor unions and if frequent strikes tend to destroy trade by making uncertain the filling of contracts. Industrial strife adds a hazard to investments involving the employment of labor which cannot fail to be injurious to industrial development, thus causing permanent loss to all classes. Therefore, our policy is one which looks to the maintenance of peace and not to the adoption of measures that will arouse hostilities."

Speaking of the closed shop, Mr. Parry said: "The closed shop is against public policy and is of doubtful legality. The liberty of the individual would be impossible if he is debarred from the right to contract for his services because he does not belong to a union. I believe that this truth will become generally recognized and that the day must come when no industry will be allowed to run on the closed shop plan."

In closing, Mr. Parry announced that the association had gained a thousand members in the last year, bringing the total membership up to 3000, and was in better financial condition than ever before.

Yale Holds Annual Meeting

Scholarship Established in Memory of Classman Who Was Iroquois Victim.

New Haven, Conn., May 17.—At the May meeting of the Yale University corporation, just held, Professor S. S. Sanford of the department of music, presented the university with a mace as the symbol of authority of the president and the fellows of the corporation. It is of silver covered with gold, weighs 24 pounds and is 47 inches long. The main shaft of the mace contains names of the 13 presidents of the university. Space is provided for 20 more names.

President Hadley announced the establishment of a new scholarship in Yale in memory of William Joseph Austrian, of the class of 1907, who lost his life in the Iroquois fire. By the provision of this scholarship the annual income of a fund of $6000 is to be given to a student of strong character, influence, marked ability and promise of scholarship.

A number of appointments and re-appointments of professors were made.

Rat-Catchers in Hongkong.

The extraordinary measures that have been taken to stamp out bubonic plague in San Francisco are more than duplicated in Hong Kong, where this scourge has been a problem almost from time immemorial. If the situation were less serious, the experience of the British governor of Hong Kong in this connection would be very amusing. He has made a report to his government, in which he tells of the bounty paid in that city for the capture of rats. These animals, as everybody knows, are responsible in large measure for the persistence of bubonic plague, and strenuous efforts have been made to get rid of the rats and at the same time to trace the infection to its source.

In Hong Kong the authorities pay a bounty of five cents for every one brought to the health office. It is required that the location of the house in which the rats are caught shall be given in each case, for it is through a bacteriological examination of the animals that the authorities try to locate the source of the plague infection. If an infected rat is caught, the health officer immediately proceeds to the house where the animal came from and disinfects the premises. Now, Chinese residents do not like to have their houses disinfected, and the bounty system has led to collision between the householders and the rat-catchers in some cases, and to the persecution of the householders by rat-catchers in other cases. Moreover, the governor

The pack of salmon on the Sacramento river is smaller than in 1903. The pack on the Columbia river falls considerably short of the corresponding time in 1903, but it is expected that the July and August runs will be heavy.

Newbro's Herpicide

An Exquisite Hair Dressing.

THE ORIGINAL REMEDY THAT "KILLS THE DANDRUFF GERMS."

THE LADIES OBJECT to a gummy and sticky hair dressing or one that is full of sedimentary chemicals intended to dye the hair. The marked preference for a clean and dainty preparation, particularly one that overcomes excessive oiliness and leaves the hair light and fluffy, is reflected in the enormous sale of Newbro's Herpicide. Discriminating ladies become enthusiastic over its refreshing quality and exquisite fragrance.

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY must have pretty hair. The features may be quite plain or even homely, yet if the head is crowned with an abundance of beautiful hair, attractiveness will not be lacking. The poet says: "fair tresses man's imperial race ensnare." Herpicide gives the hair a charming distinctiveness that is characteristic of no other hair dressing.

DISEASED HAIR A MISFORTUNE. Unsightly or diseased hair is a misfortune in more ways than one. There is the actual injury to the hair follicles, and the consequent loss or thinning of the hair; this may cause diseases that sometimes follow a removal or thinning of nature's protection to the head. A diseased condition of the hair effects a woman's disposition to a marked degree.

If the hair is dull, brittle and lifeless, owing to the presence of a microbic growth the effect is to dampen one's spirits and cause a loss of interest in personal appearance. The use of Newbro's Herpicide overcomes the ravages of the dandruff microbe, after which the natural beauty and abundance of the hair will return as nature intended. Almost marvelous results follow the use of Herpicide. Gentlemen will find Newbro's Herpicide in use at all important barber shops.

PROMINENT DOCTOR SAYS:—"It gives me pleasure to state that since using your preparation, Herpicide, I have been much benefited and nearly entirely relieved from the troublesome itching of my scalp. I believe it will entirely cure such troubles if properly used." (Signed) W. H. EWIN, M. D.

Union, Or. A CONVINCING TRIAL—"After fifteen applications of Newbro's Herpicide my head was free from all disease and scales. When I first commenced to use Herpicide I thought it would be a fake like lots of them but I am happy to state that it has done all and more than you claim for it." (Signed) L. N. JONES.
